INSTRUCTIONS FOR SECURING REGISTRATION OF COPYRIGHT IN A MUSICAL COMPOSITION

Published Musical Composition

Copyright may be secured for a musical composition published in the first instance (that is, reproduced and actually placed on sale, sold or publicly distributed), if each copy so published bears the statutory notice of copyright upon the title page or upon the first page of music, namely, the word "Copyright" or abbreviation "Copr.," followed by the year date of publication and the name of the copyright proprietor. The "date of publication" is defined in the copyright law as "the earliest date when copies of the first authorized edition were placed on sale, sold, or publicly distributed by the proprietor of the copyright or under his authority." The law provides that promptly after such publication with the prescribed notice of copyright, there shall be deposited in the Copyright Office two complete copies of the best edition thereof then published, which should be accompanied by application Form E and the registration fee of $4.

Unpublished Musical Composition

Copyright may also be secured for an unpublished musical composition by the deposit in the Copyright Office of one complete copy, accompanied by application Form E and the registration fee of $4. Space 6 of the application should not be filled in when the application is used for an unpublished musical composition. Do not send your only copy, as the one submitted for registration will be retained. If a musical composition is registered as unpublished and is later reproduced in copies and published with the copyright notice, a second registration should be made in accordance with the instructions for published musical compositions. The year date in the notice of copyright should be the year in which copyright was originally secured for the work in unpublished form. If substantial new matter is added to the original work, the notice of copyright should contain both dates. A song-poem (words without music) is properly designated as a "book" and is not subject to copyright registration prior to publication.

Explanation of the Word "Author" and Duration of Copyright

The word "author" in the case of a musical composition includes not only composers of original music and words but also arrangers, revisers, compilers and the like. The copyright law also provides that "the word 'author' shall include an employer in the case of works made for hire," and in such instances space 3 of the application should so indicate. The first term of copyright is 28 years, which is computed in the case of a work published in the first instance from the date of publication; and in the case of an unpublished work, from the date of registration. In the twenty-eighth year a renewal application (Form R furnished upon request) may be made to secure a second term of 28 years.

New Versions of Musical Compositions

If a new version is made of a copyrighted musical composition (when produced with the consent of the proprietor of the copyright of such work) or of one which is in the public domain, copyright may be secured for the new matter which it contains by following the procedure outlined above. It is particularly important, however, that item 7 on pages 2 and 2a be filled out for such works as well as the applicable items on pages 1 and 1a.

Information concerning copyright in musical compositions

When To Use Form E. Form E is appropriate for unpublished and published musical compositions by authors who are U. S. citizens or domiciliaries, and for musical compositions first published in the United States.

What Is a "Musical Composition"? The term "musical composition" includes compositions consisting of music alone, or of words and music combined. It also includes arrangements and other versions of earlier compositions, if new copyrightable work of authorship has been added.

Song Lyrics Alone. The term "musical composition" does not include song poems and other works consisting of words without music. Works of that type are not registrable for copyright in unpublished form.

Sound Recordings. Phonograph records, tape recordings, and other sound recordings are not regarded as "copies" of the musical compositions recorded on them, and are not acceptable for copyright registration. For purposes of deposit, the musical composition should be written in some form of legible notation. If the composition contains words, they should be written above or beneath the notes to which they are sung.

Duration of Copyright. Statutory copyright begins on the date the work was first published, or, if the work was registered for copyright in unpublished form, copyright begins on the date of registration. In either case, copyright lasts for 28 years, and may be renewed for a second 28-year term.

Unpublished musical compositions

How To Register a Claim. To obtain copyright registration, mail to the Register of Copyrights, Library of Congress, Washington 25, D. C., one complete copy of the musical composition, an application Form E, properly completed and signed, and a fee of $4. Manuscripts are not returned, so do not send your only copy.

Procedure To Follow if Work Is Later Published. If the work is later reproduced in copies and published, it is necessary to make a second registration, following the procedure outlined below. To maintain copyright protection, all copies of the published edition must contain a copyright notice in the required form and position.

Published musical compositions

What Is "Publication"? Publication, generally, means the sale, placing on sale, or public distribution of copies. Limited distribution of so-called "professional" copies ordinarily would not constitute publication. However, since the dividing line between a preliminary distribution and actual publication may be difficult to determine, it is wise for the author to affix notice of copyright to copies that are to be circulated beyond his control.

How To Secure Copyright in a Published Musical Composition.

1. Produce copies with copyright notice, by printing or other means of reproduction.

2. Publish the work.

3. Register the copyright claim, following the instructions on page 1 of this form.

The Copyright Notice. In order to secure and maintain copyright protection for a published work, it is essential that all copies published in the United States contain the statutory copyright notice. This notice shall appear on the title page or first page of music and must consist of three elements:

1. The word "Copyright," the abbreviation "Copr.," or the symbol ©. Use of the symbol © may result in securing copyright in countries which are parties to the Universal Copyright Convention.

2. The year date of publication. This is ordinarily the date when copies were first placed on sale, sold, or publicly distributed. However, if the work has been registered for copyright in unpublished form, the notice should contain the year of registration; or, if there is new copyrightable matter in the published version, it should include both dates.

3. The name of the copyright owner (or owners). Example: © John Doe 1953.

NOTE: If copies are published without the required notice, the right to secure copyright is lost and cannot be restored.

Information concerning renewal copyright

Two important points must be kept in mind with respect to renewal copyright: (1) there are strict time limits for securing it, and (2) it can be claimed only by certain specified persons named in the law.

Time limits

When to renew. The original term of copyright in a published work lasts for 28 years from the date of publication; in the case of a work originally registered in unpublished form, the copyright term lasts for 28 years from the date of registration in the Copyright Office. In either case, the copyright may be renewed for a second 28-year term only if a claim is registered in the Copyright Office within the last (28th) year of the original copyright term. For example, a work copyrighted on June 15, 1940, would be eligible for renewal between June 15, 1967, and June 15, 1968.

Caution. Unless a valid renewal claim and fee are received in the Copyright Office before the first copyright term expires, copyright protection is lost permanently and the work enters the public domain. The Copyright Office has no discretion to extend the renewal time limits.

How to register your claim

Procedure to follow. Complete an application for renewal registration on Form R and send it to the Register of Copyrights, Washington 25, D. C. The application should be accompanied by the registration fee of $2.00. Do not send copies of the work.

Who may claim renewal

Except in the case of five specific types of works, the law gives the right to claim renewal to the individual author of the work, regardless of who owned the copyright during the original term. If the author is deceased, the statute gives the right to claim renewal to certain of his statutory beneficiaries as explained below. The present owner (proprietor) of a copyright is entitled to claim renewal only in the five cases listed in Paragraph B, below.

A. The following persons may claim renewal in all types of works except those enumerated in Paragraph B, below:

1. The author, if living. State the claim as: the author.
2. The widow, widower, and/or children of the author, if the author is not living. State the claim as: the widow (widower) of the author and/or the child (children) of the deceased author.
3. The author's executors, if the author left a will and if there is no surviving widow, widower, or child. State the claim as: the executors of the author.

4. The next of kin of the author, if the author left no will and if there is no surviving widow, widower, or child. State the claim as: the next of kin of the deceased author, there being no will.

B. In the case of the following five types of works, the proprietor (owner of the copyright at the time of renewal registration) may claim renewal:

1. Posthumous work (work first published and copyrighted after the death of the author). State the claim as: proprietor of copyright in a posthumous work.
2. Periodical, cyclopedic, or other composite work. State the claim as: proprietor of copyright in a composite work.
3. "Work copyrighted by a corporate body otherwise than as assignee or licensee of the individual author." State the claim as: proprietor of copyright in a work copyrighted by a corporate body otherwise than as assignee or licensee of the individual author. (This type of claim is considered appropriate in relatively few cases.)

4. Work copyrighted by an employer for whom such work was made for hire. State the claim as: proprietor of copyright in a work made for hire.
5. Print or label originally registered in the Patent Office prior to July 1, 1940. State the claim as: proprietor of copyright in a print or label.

Information Concerning the "Notice of Use" Requirements

NOTE.—Filing a notice of use on Form U is not a substitute for securing copyright protection. The notice of use is concerned with mechanical recording rights in musical compositions that have already been copyrighted. Form E, which may be obtained from the Copyright Office on request, should be used to secure copyright registration for a musical composition.

When to Use Form U. A notice of use on Form U should be filed by the owner of copyright in a musical composition when he has recorded his work, or licensed it for recording, on mechanical instruments such as phonograph records.

Statutory Provisions. The detailed notice of use provisions of the copyright statute may be found in sections 1(e) and 101(e) of Title 17, United States Code. The following is a general outline of the most important of these provisions.

Recording Rights. The copyright law gives the owner of copyright in a musical composition the exclusive right to make the first recording or reproduction of his composition on mechanical devices such as phonograph records, but only under certain conditions. Once the copyright owner has permitted the musical work to be recorded, any other person has a right to make recordings of the work.

— This person may negotiate a recording contract with the copyright owner and record the composition under the terms specified in the agreement.

— Or, he may use the "compulsory licensing" provisions of the law, which do not require him to get permission from the copyright owner.

The "Compulsory License." Under the "compulsory licensing" provisions of the copyright statute, any person may make recordings of a musical composition which the copyright owner has already recorded or licensed for recording, if he pays the copyright owner the royalty provided in the copyright statute and meets certain other requirements.

The Notice of Use. As soon as the copyright owner has recorded his musical work or licensed someone else to make the first recording, he should file a notice of use in the Copyright Office.

— This notice of use is submitted on Form U and should be accompanied by the recording fee specified in the instructions on page 1.

— The law provides that any failure to file such a notice shall be a complete defense to any suit, action, or proceeding for any infringement of the right to reproduce the musical composition mechanically.

Other Points to Remember:

— The Copyright Office does not register claims to exclusive rights in mechanical recordings themselves or in the performances they reproduce. For this reason, phonograph records should not be sent to this office, and the notice of use should not contain any reference to the performance or the performers.

— Recordings of readings of literary works, lectures, dramatic presentations, and the like, do not fall within the notice of use provisions of the statute.

— Only copyrighted music should be listed in a notice of use. No purpose is served by including musical compositions that are not copyrighted.

— Care should be taken that the information given on Form U is complete and accurate, since the Copyright Office does not undertake to check the stated facts.
